

Block/Intensive Schedule: In-Person and Live-Streamed Course Lectures, Seminars, Labs, and Workshops for 2022, 2023, 2024

<Updated 9 May 2022>

- Location is Husted Hall (HH), Albuquerque Campus, unless otherwise specified.
- ARC = TeHEP Archaeological Research Center, Albuquerque Campus
- TSUMA = TSU Museum of Archaeology.
- MA Lecture/Seminar Intensive schedule as follows: Thursday/Friday/Saturday; session 9am–12pm; lunch break 12pm–1:30pm; session 1:30pm–4:30pm (MST or MDT depending on the time of year).
- PhD Laboratory/Workshop schedule as follows: Thursday/Friday/Saturday; session 9am–12pm; lunch break 12pm–1:30pm; session 1:30pm–4:30pm (MST or MDT depending on the time of year).
- Archaeology Open Seminar schedule as follows: Tuesday evening sessions (as announced), 6pm–9pm (MST or MDT depending on the time of year); these are not on the schedule below; neither are they course-specific; the AOS does not occur during block/intensive weeks).
- TBD = to be determined.
- “profs” = one or more of the following lecturers/instructors.
- Schedule changes may occur, but will always be published in the VIU School of Archaeology Newsletter at least 30 days in advance.

Courses below are listed by number and title. All lectures, seminars, labs, and workshops take place live at the Albuquerque Campus unless specified for a different location. All are live-streamed and archived as well. Links for live-streaming are published in the VIU School of Archaeology newsletter Text & Trowel. Text & Trowel is, along with Populi, an important means of communicating with our students about events, scheduling, and links. Links are available for all MA and PhD archaeology students, so you may enjoy an academic event even if you are not yet enrolled for a given course. We do take roll for all lectures, seminars, labs, and workshops, so you can ‘store it away’ to use when you do enroll in that titled course.
